You are receiving this notice because you have an active user account on fishersci.com.

We have updated our Web site, and your company has been transitioned to the new site. The redesigned site has replaced the previous site, and you will only be able to access the new site from now on. Please go to <http://new.fishersci.com> and bookmark our new home page.

For more information, see a preview of the redesigned fishersci.com now at www.fishercom.info/nextgen/demo/.

The redesigned site still includes all of the functionality you have used in the past. Your login and account information remain the same. All of the company and personal settings and purchasing data that you previously accessed through fishersci.com are unchanged and available to you on the redesigned site. You can also use the new site to place and track orders just as you did before.

If you should need assistance or do not recall your username and password, please call Fisher Web Site Support at 877.885.2081. Please send general comments and feedback via e-mail to Web.Feedback@fishersci.com.
